The Precisionists, Inc. (TPI) Celebrates 10 Years of Innovation, Growth, and Impact on Bridging the Neurodiversity Employment Divide

Wilmington, DE — August 21, 2026 — The Precisionists, Inc. (TPI) proudly celebrates its 10th anniversary this year, marking a decade of innovation, growth, and commitment to delivering world-class service to its clients through best practices and proactive engagement of its talented neurodiverse and neurotypical consultants.

Founded in 2016, TPI began with a bold mission to create jobs 10,000 across the U.S. for individuals with neurodiversities, including those impacted by autism. Over the past ten years, the organization has evolved into a one of the largest leaders in neurodiversity employment and as a trusted business services partner.

“Reaching our 10-year anniversary is an incredible milestone and a testament to the dedication of our employees and the support of our client partners,” said Ernie Dianastasis, Founder & CEO of The Precisionists. “What began as an ambitious idea has grown into an organization that has become one of the five (5) largest employers of neurodiverse talent in the country. For our employees that employment comes in the form of sustainable career-based jobs, providing an opportunity of living a life of independence. For our clients, they benefit from the unique talents and innovative solutions our neurodiverse workforce delivers to their critical business processes. We are grateful for everyone who has been part of our journey and excited about the opportunities that lie ahead.”

During the past decade, The Precisionists has achieved numerous accomplishments, including:

- The opening of four (4) Innovation & Technology Centers across the U.S. in Wilmington, DE; Philadelphia, PA, Nashville, TN, and Phoenix, AZ.; while also providing services in additional markets, including Cleveland, OH; Akron, OH; Pittsburgh, PA; Chicago, IL
- Delivering IT and business services to more than 45 fortune 500 & 1000 client partners across the U.S.
- Development of innovative approaches to break down the barriers to employment for neurodiverse jobseekers
- Named the College Autism Network’s 2025 Outstanding Neurodiversity Workplace Initiative

- Recognized with the State of Tennessee Department of Human Resources 2023 Inclusive Employer Award
- Awarded first place for Innovation & Ideation at Exelon's 2018 Innovation Expo
- Named recipient of the Autism Society of America's 2018 Adam Heavner Memorial Award
- Most importantly, the growth and development of a talented and dedicated workforce

As we at The Precisionists reflect on ten years of progress, we also look to the future with energized purpose. TPI remains focused on driving innovation, strengthening current partnerships and forming new partnerships, investing in our workforce, and continuing to deliver outstanding results.

“When properly assessed and trained, people impacted by autism and other neurodiversities can be extremely high-performing employees. TPI's employees bring innovative approaches to critical and challenging administrative, business, and information technology functions,” said Ernie Dianastasis. “While we are proud of all we have accomplished over the past decade, there is still much more to do. With more than 80% of autistic adults in the U.S. either unemployed or underemployed, we are helping unlock the potential of a significant, talented, and largely untapped labor force—and we are just getting started. Our commitment to excellence, innovation, and lasting impact will continue to guide us as we begin our next chapter.”
